

March 7, 1958

Dear Dan:

Enclosed is a contract between our company and []
[] which I discussed with you and [] on the telephone yesterday, March 6. Jim is returning overseas on March 14; and if it is possible to expedite this matter so that he may sign the enclosed contract, I feel that it will save our company and you money and unnecessary negotiations in four months. As discussed with [] [] the contract does not bind the government should the project be terminated at an earlier date than expected.

This is the first opportunity that [] has had to sign on for a longer period. He expressed a desire to do this last November when other contractors were signing their personnel to longer term contracts. In view of this, I feel that the new per diem rate should be paid him retroactive from last November 14.

If there are any difficulties, would you please contact me by phone as we are very anxious to finish this business before he leaves the plant on March 14.

Sincerely,
